

Terms & Condition

1. Any and all use of this Web Site is subject to acceptance of the terms and conditions of use laid out in the following clauses. Usage, for the purposes of these terms and conditions, is deemed to be the reading or visiting of this Web Site, and/or the purchase of one or more products from the Web Site and is applicable to all Users, whether human beings, computers or companies and other organizations, incorporated or unincorporated.

2. The Owners of this Web Site have published it in good faith and to the best of their ability and knowledge in the given subject area. The Users of the Web Site are therefore required to demonstrate similar good faith in their use of the Web Site, by keeping to the Terms and Conditions of Use, not publishing defamatory remarks about the Web Site or the Site's Owners in any media, electronic or otherwise and, should discussion forums be available on the Web Site, by behaving in a considerate and responsible fashion at all times. Failure to comply will result in Users being denied access to the Web Site and may even result in prosecution, should the behavior breach any laws of privacy, defamation, etc.

3. In the event of any legal dispute arising from the use of this Web Site, irrespective of the country of origin of any third party, all such disputes will be resolved within the jurisdiction of the country of incorporation of the Web Site's owner(s) and not the country in which the Web Site is hosted unless otherwise stated.

4. All material on this Web Site, whether in the Web Site itself or any product that may be sold therein, if products are sold via the Web Site, is subject to copyright and may not be reproduced in whole or in part without the Web Site owner's express permission. You may not modify, copy, or in any way reproduce, publish, distribute, sell, lease, license, create derivative works from, transfer, or sell any information or products obtained from this Web Site. Failure to obtain permission before reproducing such material may result in prosecution

5. We make every endeavor to ensure the information on our Web Site is correct, but it is not always possible to keep everything up to date. The information is therefore provided without warranty or guarantee of any description, and the Web Site's owners cannot be held responsible for the use made of such information as may appear within the pages of the Web Site. It is the responsibility of the User to check current legislation and practices pertaining to their area of interest before acting upon information received via the Web Site. If you believe any of the information on this Web Site is inaccurate or incorrect, please contact us by email.

6. We may occasionally pass on your contact details to carefully selected third parties who may offer you other products of interest. As per our Privacy Policy, you must contact us if you do NOT want your contact details to be used in this manner.

7. Wherever there are discussion forums available on the Web Site, Users are required to remain polite about each other and about the Web Site itself. We take defamation very seriously and any defamatory remarks found on our forums will be removed and the User denied access.

8. In order to improve our site and our service to you, we may occasionally use cookies. The purpose of such cookies is purely to help us personalize the information we deliver to you and does not imply storage of personal data, nor the tracking of your activity on the site. If you wish to delete such cookies after visiting the site, go to your browser's tools menu and select the 'clear cookies' option.

9. For some of the functionalities of the Web Site, it may occasionally be necessary to use cookies. If your privacy settings are set too high, it may not be possible for you to view parts of our web site or complete certain processes on occasion. If this is the case, and you wish to proceed, you must adjust your browser's security settings to accept cookies. We accept no responsibility for Users being unable to see the site if they are unwilling to alter their security settings.

10. We may occasionally change or vary the contents of these Terms and Conditions. In the event that you purchased a product or service through us, it is the Terms and Conditions that were in place at the time of that purchase that will be valid.
